RE is not just about religion, it is also about belief as a whole; it is about developing thinking, empathy and reflection. It is also about how we live together and develop visions and values for the future; it is not just for religious people,
It is for all.

“RE is the best and most meaningful way of creating a successful and wholly integrated society.”

The more people know about the faiths currently thriving in Britain the more likely we will be, as a nation, to embrace our multicultural society”.
